Daniel's Law protects the home addresses and telephone numbers of judges, prosecutors, and law enforcement officers from public disclosure. The law amends the Open Public Records Act ("OPRA") to exclude from the definition of a government (i.e., public) record the portion of any document which discloses the home address of any active or retired 1) judge, 2) prosecutor or 3) law enforcement officer. Further, it prohibits government agencies, individuals and businesses from knowingly publishing on the internet, or otherwise making available, the home address or unpublished home telephone number of any active or retired judge or any active or retired prosecutor. Daniel's Law is named in honor of Daniel Anderl, the late son of U.S. District Court Judge Esther Salas, who fell victim to a senseless act of gun violence committed by an individual who had compiled a dossier of personal information about Judge Salas, including the judge's home address. Any New Jersey practitioner who handles or prepares public records, such as deeds, mortgages, or tax documents should be aware of the application of this law and how it affects their practice.

This program has been tentatively approved by the Board on Continuing Legal Education of the Supreme Court of New Jersey for 2.0 hours of total CLE credit. Of these, 2.0 qualify as hours of credit toward Civil.
